127 KB pdf --- Extension of the ISWI Logo Contest.
(snapshot of ISWI website, www.iswi-secretariat.org )

-----

Dear ISWI Participant:

If you are not aware, there is a "Logo Contest" being conducted for the International Space Weather Initiative, which runs 2010 through 2011 through 2012.

The original deadline of the contest was 30 Nov 2009. However, the Logo Selection Committee members have decided to extend the end of the contest to 15 January 2010. (No doubt this is the first and final extension.)

Full details of the contest can be found at the ISWI website (www.iswi-secretariat.org). I also attach a snapshot of the relevant section of the website.

The Top Prize is still 400 United States Dollars. Thus far, the Committee has received 7 logo designs from Sudan, Egypt (twice), Ethiopia, USA, Papua New Guinea, and Armenia. This contest is open to anyone who is fascinated with Space Weather, or who has passionate, red-hot ISWI blood gushing through his or her veins, or both.

Kind regards,
George Maeda

International Space Weather Initiative

Dec 3, 2009 NEWS: The period of logo contest has been extended until 15 January (click here)

LOGO CONTEST FOR THE INTERNATIONAL SPACE WEATHER INITIATIVE (ISWI)

Any person from any country is invited to submit a logo for ISWI. The person submitting the best design will receive 400 United States dollars. But your design must be submitted before 24:00 UT on November 30, 2009. Please submit as pdf --- but if yours is the winning design, you will be asked to furnish a high-resolution version. For design reference, please refer to the IHY logo (look to the right). The winning logo will be used during ISWI for three years (2010 - 2012).

The Logo Selection Committee consists of the following persons:

- Professor Yumoto, of SERC/Japan,
- Dr Joseph Davila, of NASA/USA,
- Dr Barbara Thompson, of NASA/USA, and
- Dr Christine Amory, of France.

Their decision is final and cannot be contested by anyone. Do not enter the contest if you cannot agree to this.

Please send your pdf to this email address: cpmn@denji102.geo.kyushu-u.ac.jp Your email subject line should be: Logo for ISWI Logo Contest from NAME/COUNTRY Please provide contact info so that we can contact you if your design is selected as the best.

The Logo Selection Committee strongly encourages entries from developing nations because a key point of ISWI is to get these nations involved in space science and data acquisition. So let your creative juices flow.

The period of logo contest has been extended until 15 January 2010.
