: The ISWI Instrument Array Map

Dear ISWI Participant:

There are more or less 14 instrument arrays registered with ISWI right now. The scope of these arrays can now be viewed online at the ISWI website -- please refer to the attached pdf. This map (as well as the entire ISWI website) is a creation of Mitko, who is with the Bulgarian Academy of Sciences.

Note to ISWI Instrument Array PIs: Mitko also provides the contact info on each of you (snail mail address, fax/tel numbers, etc.). The info may be out-of-date so please check it today for correctness. ----> Click on "Projects", then on "Instrument Leaders". Mitko's info is the defacto "official" depository of ISWI contact information -- because there is no other depository or list keeper.

Most faithfully yours,
